Spades - Sammy

The Goal

The goal of the game is to make your bid and have the most points by the end of the game.

The Deal

This game is meant for 4 or more people. If you are playing with 5 people each player is dealt 10 cards, in the first hand. If you are not playing with 5 people, card amounts will change and the starting hand number will decrease to fit the amount of people playing. Each round the amount of cards dealt decreases by 1 until you get down to one card, after this round the amount of cards dealt is increased by 1 until you get back up to 10 cards. Dealing rotates around the table every round. After the deal, players bid on how many tricks they think they can take.

Bidding

The bidding starts left of the dealers and continues until it reaches the dealer. Spades are trump and Ace is high, you want to look at your hand, and see how many tricks you think you can take. Tip: I would normally bid on Aces and bid on trump higher than 6 or 7 depending on the amount of cards in your hand and what everyone else has already bid. The number of bids cannot be equal to the amount of cards dealt. If the group has already bid 10 and you have 10 cards in your hand, the dealer cannot bid zero.

The Game

After bidding your hand, the player to the left of the dealer leads out the first card. Spades cannot be led if they haven't been broken. You have to follow suit, if you don't have the suit, you have to trump with a spade, if you do not have a spade you can play anything that you want. If you win a trick it is now your turn to lead out a card. This continues until no cards are left. The score is then taken based on if you made your bid or not. And the next round is dealt this continues until you go from 10-1 card then back up to ten. In this order:

10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10

Scoring

If you don't make your bid you receive 0 points, but if you do make your bid 10 points is added to your bid (so if you bid 2 you would receive 12 points)

Ending the Game

The game ends when you get back up to 10 cards. The winner is the one with the most points.

Note: You can start with less than 10 cards if you do not want as long of a game
