The Goal

Get rid of all the card in your hand before the opposing player

The Deal

Creating four piles between the two players deal from left to right; seven cards, one card, one card, seven cards; face down. Then deal the remaining cards between the two players until the deck is empty.

The Game

Each player will begin with five cards in their hand from their half-deck delt stack. Then at the same time the players will flip the two center cards. Cards can be played in the middle in ascending or descending order (ex. a 10 can be placed on a 9 or Jack). Jacks play as 11, Queens as 12, Kings as 13 and Aces wrap around. When one card is played the player picks up another from their deck to remain at 5 cards in their hand. If neither player can play on the middle decks then both players take one card from the decks of seven and flip it to the middle pile and continue playing on those new cards.

Ending the Game

Following placing the last card out of their hand, the player out of cards must slap both decks and yell "speed" indicating their win.
